FRANCISCANS

And Their Flocks Unite in Doing Honor to Their Patron.

Novenas, Masses and a Solemn Triduum in Local Churches.

Dominicans to Officiate at St. Boniface Church on Monday.

DAYS OF FESTIVE SOLEMNITY

On Monday next the church throughout the world will commemorate the seven hundredth anniversary of the founding of the great order of Franciscans by St. Francis of Assisi. While Monday will be the feast day of St. Francis, each of the four Franciscan churches in Louisville will have devotions in honor of their distinguished patron on other days as well. There are two branches of the Franciscans in Louisville, the Order of Friars Minor or brown Franciscans and the Order of Minor Conventuals or black Franciscans. The brown Franciscans have a monastery at Jackson and Green streets and preside over St. Boniface church adjoining the monastery, and also preside over St. Joseph's church at Washington and Webster streets. St. Anthony's church, at Twenty-third and Market, and St. Peter's, at Seventeenth and Southgate, are presided over by the black Franciscans.

In each of those churches a novena or nine days' prayer in honor of St. Francis began last Saturday and will close on the coming feast day. At St. Anthony's a triduum began last evening with vespers, a morning mass and a night mass. Tomorrow morning the masses will occur at the usual hour; and at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow evening the Very Rev. Father P. M. J. Rock, rector of the Cathedral parish, will preach a sermon in English. The mass at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning will be a high mass with the Right Rev. Athanasius Schmitt, Abbot of St. Meinrad's abbey, as celebrant. A sermon in German will be preached by the Rev. Father Basil, O. S. B., of Jasper, Ind. On Monday, the feast of St. Francis, the Very Rev. Father Leo Greulich, pastor of St. Anthony's, will celebrate a Levitical high mass at 8 o'clock.

At St. Peter's church a high mass will be celebrated as usual at 10 o'clock tomorrow. Earlier in the day the members of St. Francis' Society will approach holy communion. On Monday morning there will be a high mass at 10 o'clock. The Rev. Father Jerome Preisser, O. M. C., will be the celebrant.

The usual masses will be celebrated at St. Boniface's church tomorrow, but on Monday morning at 9 o'clock there will be a solemn high mass at which the Dominican priests will officiate with the Very Rev. Father J. R. Clark as celebrant. Every year the brown Franciscans visit St. Louis Bertrand's church and celebrate the solemn high mass for the Dominicans, and in return the followers of St. Dominic perform a like service at St. Boniface church for the Franciscans. The sermon will be preached in German and will be preached by the Rev. Father Alexander Wilberding, O. F. M. One of Mozart's masses will be sung. The officiating priests and visiting clergy, accompanied by the Franciscan Fathers and led by 108 altar boys, will march from the sacristy to Green street and thence through the main door of the church before mass begins on Monday.

St. Francis of Assisi, who is thus being honored, was a contemporary of St. Dominic. One was born in Italy, the other in Spain. St. Francis was born in 1181 and twenty-five years later separated himself from the world and embraced a life of poverty. In October, 1209, Bernard of Quintavalle, a rich merchant of Assisi, and St. Francis, a poor man, were in the cathedral of that city, who had witnessed and admired the virtues of the young Francis, joined themselves to him, and this is considered the time of the founding of the order. From that time the order has grown and flourished. St. Francis died in 1226. Since then his followers have carried the cross to many lands. They have built churches and schools, succored the poor and homeless and in many ways have endeared themselves to the people.

Here in Louisville the Franciscans have four fine churches, parochial schools, halls, rectories and a very handsome monastery. Their work for years has brought blessings to those among whom they have labored, and their respective flocks are showing their appreciation of the Franciscan Friars.

AGREEABLE SURPRISE.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Redmon were given a very agreeable surprise by their friends at their home, Eighteenth and Maplewood streets, last Sunday evening. It was the anniversary of their wedding and all who called brought handsome and useful presents. After congratulations had been extended the host, hostess and guests enjoyed an impromptu musicale. While the music was in progress the table was spread in the dining room. The color scheme of decorations was white and green. After a bountiful repast there was more music and merrymaking. Among the guests were Messrs. and Mesdames Edward Vannatter, John Eichhorn, Fred Markhaus, Dr. and Mrs. Boss, Mesdames Ellen Howard, Lizzie Ross and Annie Rossi, and Misses Lizzie Welsh, Annie Kelly, Hettie and Annie Howard, Rose Hanlon, Mayme Owens, Augusta and Josephine Zettler, Anna Broderick, Nettie Kleier, Neta Navick, of Indianapolis, Julia Hession, Mary E. Ross, Maud Redmon and Messrs. Cass Vannatter, Alfred and Arthur Markhaus, Robert C. Selby, John P. Ross, Gipper Vannatter, Perry Fletcher, C. B. Doollittle, J. B. Smith and Harry Cummings.

PASTOR AND PEOPLE

Joined in the Anniversary of St. Michael's Church.

The Rev. Father Martin O'Connor and his parishioners celebrated the forty-third anniversary of St. Michael's church last Sunday. On Monday a requiem mass was celebrated for the souls of the deceased members of the parish. All of the services were well attended, not only by present members of the parish but by former parishioners and their families. While many of the older families are Irish, quite a number of Italian families are now numbered among the children of St. Michael's church.

The high mass last Sunday morning was celebrated by the Rev. Father Martin O'Connor, pastor, and the music was sung by an augmented choir of fifty voices. About 200 children and young ladies dressed in white and wearing veils and garlands marched in procession from the school rooms to the church. At their head was borne a banner bearing a picture of St. Michael. Rev. Father Doyle, O. P., preached the sermon. He took occasion to praise the unflinching sacrifices made by Rev. Father O'Connor and former pastors of St. Michael's congregation, and urged the people to be true to the teachings of their faith.

Since its establishment in 1866 St. Michael's has had the following pastors: Fathers Foxworth and Plagenborg, both long deceased; Father John Sheridan, now pastor of Holy Cross church, on West Broadway, and the present pastor, Father Martin O'Connor. After the mass last Sunday Rev. Father O'Connor entertained the visiting clergy at dinner. The Rev. Father O'Connor was assisted by Rev. Father O'Connor, and former pastors of St. Michael's congregation, and urged the people to be true to the teachings of their faith.

The choir at the mass was made up as follows: Soprano—Mrs. John J. Score; Mrs. J. H. Hulswede; Misses T. Bennett, W. Webb, Della Morris, Margaret Scally, Mary McElliot, Angela Perry and Rosie Neehan. Alto—Mrs. A. J. Musselman, Misses Lizzie Guthrie, Maggie Quill and Martha McGoff. Tenors—Henry F. Bigley, Warfield Webb and Thomas D. Cline. Basses—John Gruesser, William Bax, Raymond Flanagan and V. Ubbler.

Mrs. Katie Shelley Newman was the organist and choir director.

BUSINESS ONLY

Discussed at Latest Meeting of Division 4, A. O. H.

President John H. Hennessy presided over a well attended meeting of Division 4, A. O. H., last Monday night. A communication was read from National President, Matthew Cummings, telling of his trip to Ireland as an envoy to visit the factions in that country during the past summer. Thomas Callahan, who had been suffering from burns received while aiding in extinguishing flames in a burning building, was reported off the sick list. Harry Brady and John Healy were also reported fully recovered.

The members accepted an invitation to attend Division 2's picnic on the following night. The Literary Committee will arrange for an entertainment in the near future. It will probably be in the nature of a picnic and dance.

Messrs. John J. Winn, David J. Reilly and William P. McDonogh, who had been appointed on a committee for the purpose, reported the following resolutions: Resolved, That the members of Division 4, Ancient Order of Hibernians, that in the death of Mrs. Connelly Louisville has suffered the loss of a valuable lady, whose absence will be felt by many.

Resolved, That we extend to Bro. William J. Connelly and the other members of the bereaved family our sincere sympathy in this hour of sorrow, reminding them, however, that this separation is but temporary, and that we shall all be reunited in that eternal home where sorrow entereth not.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of Division 4, A. O. H., that a copy be sent to the press and a copy be sent to Bro. Connelly.

STORIES

Of Judge Matt O'Doherty Are Very Interesting to His Friends.

Highly Pleased With Music He Heard While On the Bayne.

Declares That Unrest in England Practically Amounts to Revolution.

IRELAND AND ITS INDUSTRIES

It is worth any Irishman's while to listen to Judge Matt O'Doherty talk about the wave of prosperity that is spreading over Ireland, and the political revolution that is turning the Government of England upside down and inside out. He was telling several old friends of his travels last Sunday, and his story is intensely interesting. He was accompanied on his travels by Mrs. O'Doherty, and for quite a while Misses Margaret and Minnie Flaherty, also of Louisville, were with Judge and Mrs. O'Doherty.

Aboard ship en route to Ireland they met a number of delightful people and formed several acquaintances. Among those they met were Judge Marcus Kavanagh, one of the ablest men in Chicago, Judge and Mrs. Kavanagh traveled through part of Ireland with Judge O'Doherty's party, and they met again while in England.

The party spent a week in Donegal and enjoyed its wild scenery. While there they spent a day as the guests of Seamus MacManus, Irish author and patriot. They also visited Derry and several other counties in the North of Ireland. Everywhere Judge O'Doherty found conditions improved beyond all expectations, and the people jubilant over their prosperity. In one place he visited a big tobacco factory, one that employs more than 5,000 hands, the majority of them girls. This factory is conducted by a firm named Gallagher. It has a warehouse in Henderson and buys most of its tobacco in Western Kentucky. One member of the firm spends a great deal of time in Kentucky, and knew Judge O'Doherty by reputation. Judge O'Doherty was shown all over the plant and found everything clean and up-to-date. The work rooms were light and airy. Excellent sanitary arrangements, toilet rooms, even dining rooms, had been provided. For a purely nominating sum the girls can get their breakfast or dinner if they desire, or are at liberty to take their meals at home.

While in Belfast Judge O'Doherty's party also visited one of the big shipyards. Ten large ocean going steamers were in course of construction. The keels of some had only been laid, while the furnishings were being placed in position in others. The workmen all appeared healthy and happy and there were no complaints about wages or conditions. At another town in Ireland Judge O'Doherty visited a linen factory, probably the largest in the world, where 5,500 hands are employed. Flax has to be handled while damp, and this makes the floors wet and unpleasant, but the many girls and men engaged in the work go about their labors willingly and uncomplainingly.

At another place the Kentucky tourists visited a china factory, where the famous Belleek ware is made. Judge O'Doherty says it is as handsome as any chinaware made in the world. The factory is working overtime, and the firm is months behind in its orders. On a trip down the Boyne on a steamboat the Judge heard voices singing one of Moore's melodies. He went to investigate and found a Dominican church choir from Dundalk on an outing. A priest and the leader or choir master were going. To please the visitors from America they sang a number of Moore's melodies. When they found the strangers were from Kentucky the choir rendered "My Old Kentucky Home." Over this the Judge is jubilant. "You have never heard it sung like that. It was fine, grand and sweet, and the note was brought out distinctly."

Of course the Kentucky party spent several days at Killybeg. "It deserves all that has ever been said about it, yet there are other parts of Ireland as beautifully impressive," said the Judge.

"Portrush, an Irish watering place, has all the hustle of Atlantic City. N. J. One is amazed at the busy scenes there and the smartness of the people's dress. Dublin, too, is amazing for the style of its people and the excellence of its department stores, of which there are none finer in the world."

"I think," continued the Judge, "that there is a disposition on the part of the majority of the English people to deal fairly with Ireland at last. The people care little about Lords and Earls and Dukes. A complete revolution is going on in England. The workman there is not as well treated as in Ireland. The Government is building cottages for the laborers in Ireland. As fast as possible the laborers and their families are being housed in these neat two-story houses, with slate or tile roofs. An acre of ground goes with each house."

"In England there is a dearth of employment, and the wages of those employed is very low. I talked to an expert carriage blacksmith. He had walked thirty-five miles that day to catch a train. He had been out of employment four months. When he worked he earned thirty-two shillings a week, about $8 of our money, and out of that had to support his wife and six children. I talked with many people who had even worse tales to tell. One man had eighteen children. He made $7 a week breaking pigs of iron in a smelting furnace. England is a hive of unrest. There is a complete revolution going on there."

Judge O'Doherty can entertain anyone for hours with stories of his travels, and every word is interesting.

WAITING.

English Radicals and Irish Nationalists On the Alert.

Defeat of the Budget Means An Appeal to the People.

Home Rule For Ireland Would Be One of Immediate Results.

WHAT WILL THE LORDS DO NOW?

The Lords not only of Ireland, but of England and Scotland as well, want the Irish land bill, that passed its final stage in the House of Commons last week, defeated. Hon. T. P. O'Connor, one of the Irish leaders in Parliament, says "that it is exactly what the radicals, and still more the Irish Nationalists, hope to see happen. The Irish are even more bitter against the Lords than the English radicals, every liberty that Ireland has won it has won it after it had been defeated and postponed for decades by the Lords, and every liberty hopes to win she could get tomorrow if it were not for the certain that the House of Lords would throw out a home rule measure."

From that tactical point of view, too, it is most desirable that the House of Lords should throw out the Lloyd-George budget as well as the Birrell land bill. Resolutions of an abstract character never have any influence with Englishmen; they want something concrete to really arouse them and to inflame them. The attempt by these hereditary and irresponsible legislators to take out of the hands of Englishmen the sole control of the money which they supply in taxes would be just one of those concrete wrongs which most appeal to the English mind.

The result would mean the disruption of the present Cabinet. The election that would follow might not send back as big a Liberal majority as that at present existing, which of course is a fresh majority, but it would send back a big Liberal majority, and one large enough to put such a rein on the pretensions of the House of Lords as would make it impossible for them to stand between the people and the many reforms which they want. Ireland stands to win more in such a struggle than any other of the four nationalities. If it were not for the House of Lords the present House of Commons would give Ireland home rule by a majority of 300, and on as extensive a scale as any reasonable Irishman could expect from a British assembly.

RECENT DEATHS.

The funeral of Mrs. Barbara Ridge, who died early Sunday morning, took place from St. Patrick's church on Tuesday morning. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Joseph Bellman, of 41 North Twelfth street, with whom she had been making her home, and Mrs. William Devaney. She was sixty years of age and lived all her life in St. Patrick's parish. All who knew Mrs. Ridge held her in high esteem.

Eugene Antonini, a retired fruit merchant, died at the residence of his son-in-law, Martin J. Connelly, 3227 Grand boulevard, Saturday night. Death resulted from a complication of ailments. The deceased was a native of Italy, and of his sixty-seven years more than thirty had been spent in the fruit business in Louisville. His daughter, Mrs. Martin Connelly, and several relatives in Italy survive him. The funeral took place Tuesday morning from Holy Name church.

Frank J. Lambert, thirty-three years old, died at the family residence, 3025 West Walnut street, Wednesday morning after an illness of a few weeks. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mary Lambert, one child and three brothers. The funeral took place from St. Columba's church yesterday morning and was largely attended. For several years Mr. Lambert had been foreman for the American Tobacco Company and was held in high esteem by all who knew him.

The funeral of Patrick White, who died at the family residence, 2413 West Walnut street, last Saturday evening, took place from St. Charles Borromeo's church Tuesday morning, and many old friends attended. Mr. White was born in Ireland twenty-seven years ago, but had spent more than forty years in this country. He was a master for the L. and N. He is survived by his wife and five children. They are James B., E. D. and William White and Misses Ella and Emma White. The deceased was a member of the Catholic Knights of America.

CEREMONY

And Pomp Will Mark Feast of the Rosary in Dominican Churches.

Solemn High Mass and Procession of Children in This City.

Celebrates the Defeat of Turkish Power by Christian Sailors.

MONTH DEVOTED TO PRAYER

Tomorrow is the feast of the Rosas for Dominicans everywhere, and here in Louisville it will be celebrated with due pomp and ceremony. It celebrates the final defeat of the Turkish fleet by the Christians in the battle of Lepanto, five centuries ago. On the afternoon of the first Sunday in October the reigning Pope, knowing that the Christian fleet was inferior to the Turks in numbers, was engaged with his Cardinals in reciting the Rosary. At its conclusion he was miraculously permitted to see the destruction of the Turkish fleet and was able to describe the Christian victory to those assembled with him. Several days later the story of the vision was confirmed by the return of the victorious fleet.

The late mass at St. Louis Bertrand's church will be a solemn high mass with a sermon. The male Gregorian choir will sing the music. It is probable that every man, woman and child in the large parish will receive holy communion at one of the masses from 5:30 o'clock on to the late mass tomorrow morning.

In the afternoon the solemn Rosary procession will be held. More than 300 little boys and girls will take part in this event, and the fifteen handsome silk banners of the Rosary will be carried at intervals in the procession. The five blue banners depict the five joyful mysteries. The sorrowful mysteries are shown in red and the glorious mysteries in white.

While the procession is in progress the children will sing the Litany of the Blessed Virgin and appropriate hymns. An aboriginal priest will preach the sermon explaining the pomp and ceremony of the occasion. The Rosary will be recited and the services will close with benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament.

Every other evening at 7:30 o'clock during the month of October there will be five decades of the Rosary recited, followed by a brief article of devotion and benediction. Not only will the members of St. Louis Bertrand's parish attend these devotions, but many from other parishes in the city.

At the close of the services tomorrow afternoon there will be the usual blessing of the Rosary articles and the enrolling of members in the Third Order of St. Dominic.

MACKIN COUNCIL

Transacted Quite a Lot of Business on Monday Night.

Mackin Council's meeting Monday night was strictly of a business character. The attendance was fair and President Louis J. Kieffer occupied the chair. Two applications were received and Urban Grater was elected to membership. James Schrems, who has been ill, was reported improving. William Plummer and William Parlinger were reported ill. The House Committee reported that it had arranged for a hot water service in the bath rooms.

Dr. Vincent Falisi, who has done lots of good work for the council for several years past, announced his removal to Little Rock, Ark., to take up his practice as a physician and professor of surgery, was elected to honorary membership. The next initiation was fixed for the second meeting in October. Invitations to attend the picnic to be given by Division 2 on Tuesday night and the entertainment to be given by St. Anthony's Court, Catholic Order of Foresters, were received and accepted.

FRANCISCAN NUN DEAD.

Word was received in Louisville Tuesday of the death of Sister Liberata, formerly Miss Mary Richmann, of this city, at the mother house of the Franciscan nuns at Oldenburg, Ind. Her mother, Mrs. Mary Richmann, resides at 508 East Walnut street in this city. Two brothers, Bernard and John B. Richmann, of Louisville, and two sisters, Mrs. Joseph Boskoetter, of Hamilton, Ohio, and Sister Bernardetta, of the Franciscan nuns, also survive. Sister Liberata entered her religious life nine years ago. She contracted a severe cold eighteen months ago and this developed the pulmonary trouble that resulted in her death. The funeral took place from the convent chapel at Oldenburg on Thursday. A number of relatives of the deceased went from Louisville to attend the final obsequies.

SIX YEARS

Has Archbishop Harty Labored in the Philippine Islands.

The latest issue of the Philippine Catholic to reach this city bears the intelligence that the Most Rev. J. J. Harty, Archbishop of Manila, recently celebrated the sixth anniversary of his consecration by celebrating Pontifical mass in the Cathedral of that city. The editor of the Philippine Catholic adds the following comment:

Few if any can realize what the past six years have fully meant and entailed in the history of our church in these islands. They have been a time fraught with all that can try a stout heart and tax the resources of a prudent mind to the utmost. They brought problems as intricate and complex as they were delicate. They spoke of accumulating cares and deepening responsibilities. They brought material burdens of overwhelming proportions, and tremendously increased the ordinary difficulties of a pastor's chief work of saving souls.

But in the midst of all this Archbishop Harty has stood a man of men and a prelate of prelates, kindly, sympathetic, far-seeing, painstaking, tactful, courageous, carrying on the glorious work of the past and building along needed lines for the future. It is only in some far distant day to come perhaps that the many sided activities of Archbishop Harty, as the noble hearted and self-sacrificing man, and as the zealous, apostolic Bishop, shall be seen in their fullest scope and their true value. For such is usually the destiny of valiant, unselfish service on earth.

In the meantime, may he be spared to his church for many a year to come. May he be blessed from on high and may he be prospered in his works, to the glory of God and the untold good of souls.

ONEROUS TASK

Is That of Bishop of Cebu and Six Hundred Islands.

Reports from the Philippine Islands indicate that the Right Rev. Bishop Hendricks, of Cebu, who has been in very poor health, is slowly improving, and it may be that he will return to the United States for a long rest. The Rev. Father Joseph Casey, Chaplain in the United States army, has given a very interesting story of the trials and troubles of the Bishop of Cebu. He says:

"Bishop Hendricks' diocese is probably the largest and most scattered of all the dioceses in the Philippines. He has undoubtedly five or six hundred different islands to look after, principally the islands of Cebu, Bohol, Leyte, Samar, Surigao and a large portion of the island of Mindanao. Furthermore, the island of Guam, about 1,000 days' journey from the Philippine Islands, is under the jurisdiction of the Bishop of Cebu, and in order that he may visit it it is necessary for him to go from Cebu to Manila, to Japan, to the United States, to Honolulu and finally to Guam, a journey of about sixty days. As you can easily understand, the poor Bishop of Cebu is generally on the go, and very little of his time can be spent in the episcopal residence in the city of Cebu. In fact he told me that he makes a biennial visitation to the different parishes of his diocese, and that even to do this it is necessary for him to travel every year by boats, which are unfit for any white man to travel upon, a distance equal to the distance from Honolulu to New York City."

UPHOLDS CONFESSORIAL.

Cardinal Gibbons upholds the decision of Judge Milliken, of New Bedford, Mass., in directing Mrs. Manuel Amario, whose husband is suing Father Mercier for $1,000, to repeat the confessional. William Plummer and William Parlinger were reported ill. The House Committee reported that it had arranged for a hot water service in the bath rooms. Dr. Vincent Falisi, who has done lots of good work for the council for several years past, announced his removal to Little Rock, Ark., to take up his practice as a physician and professor of surgery, was elected to honorary membership. The next initiation was fixed for the second meeting in October. Invitations to attend the picnic to be given by Division 2 on Tuesday night and the entertainment to be given by St. Anthony's Court, Catholic Order of Foresters, were received and accepted.

CREDIT TO THE STATE.

Col. James L. Hackett left Tuesday night for Goldfield, Nev., where he will represent Kentucky at the National Mining Congress next week. The appointment was made by Gov. Willson. Col. Hackett was born in the West of Irish parents, but for the past twenty-six years has been identified with distillery in Louisville. He has been interested in mining from boyhood, and has amassed a competency from his mining interests. Col. Hackett will reflect credit on the State as Kentucky's representative to the coming congress.

PREPARING

To Celebrate Sixtieth Anniversary of Church of St. Marys.

Day Will Be Observed With All Solemn Grandeur of the Church.

Old and New Parishioners Will Gather in Large Numbers.

SOME OF THE LIVING PIONEERS

Pastor and people are preparing to celebrate in grand style the sixtieth anniversary of the founding of the congregation of the Immaculate Conception, more frequently called St. Mary's. For three score years the church at Eighth and Grayson street has been a haven of refuge and rest for the pious. Most of its parishioners have been, and are, either Germans by birth or descent. The exceptions are very few. Men and women, now aged and preparing for the grave, were married there. They have carried their children there to be baptized; have wept with joy when they witnessed them receive their first holy communion; have rejoiced over their weddings; have assisted when fortunate sons celebrated their first mass, and have followed St. Mary's children, grandchildren and friends there on the way to the grave. A thousand hallowed memories arise to these pious people at this time when the sixtieth anniversary is about to be celebrated.

St. Mary's is one of the oldest churches in the city, and was blessed on July 8, 1849, by the Right Rev. Bishop Spalding, who afterward became Archbishop of Baltimore, one of the assistant priests on that occasion was the Rev. Father Charles Boeswald, who was the first pastor of St. Mary's. He was in turn succeeded by the Rev. Father Van Deutkom, and at his death the Rev. Father Martin Brandt became pastor.

About eighteen years ago, at the death of Father Brandt, the Rev. Father B. H. Westermann became pastor, and has been in charge ever since. By his energy, fidelity to duty and self-sacrifice he has endeared himself to his flock. As a result of his labors the present handsome school and hall have been erected and the church and rectory much improved and adorned. His people hope that Father Westermann will be long spared to them.

Sunday, October 3, will be a dual celebration, the sixtieth anniversary of the church and the tenth anniversary of its consecration, another event that the energy of Father Westermann brought about. The celebration both morning and evening will be as grandly solemn as the ceremonial of the church can make it. The high mass at 10 o'clock will be celebrated by the reverend pastor, Father B. H. Westermann. Many other priests will occupy places in the sanctuary. The jubilee sermon will be preached by the Rev. Father Leo Greulich. Among the visiting clergy who are expected to be present at the holy sacrifice of the mass on that day are the following sons of St. Mary's church: The Very Rev. George W. Schumann, D. D., Very Rev. Dominic Barthel, O. S. B., President of St. Meinrad's College; Rev. George Weiss, Rev. Father Theodore L. Reverman, of Jeffersonville; Rev. Frank Henry, of Topeka, Kas.; Rev. Frank Heck, of the diocese of San Antonio, Texas; Rev. John Bohlsen and Rev. Edward Fehrenbach.

There will be a solemn musical. The Concordia Singing Society will assist St. Mary's choir. On this occasion the sermon will be preached by the Rev. Father Schumann, D. D. All former members of the parish, their children and grandchildren are cordially invited to visit St. Mary's both morning and evening of Sunday, October 10, if convenience permits. Shortly before the death of Bishop McCloskey he gave his indorsement to all the arrangements made by Father Westermann for this dual celebration, and promised him his hearty support in all his undertakings.

Among the living pioneers of St. Mary's parish are William Voss, Henry Middendorf, George Schumann, Joseph Hubbert, Henry Feibohler, Henry Gotthardt, Henry Bosquet, Fred Michael, Edward G. Hill, Martin Gathof, Herman Deidens, Tony Bernsen, John Lepping, Charles Hill, John Goldbach, Henry Humold, Nicholas Bosler and John Brumleve.

DR. HENDRICKS RETURNS.

Dr. William B. Hendricks, the well known dentist, has returned to Louisville to practice his profession. During the past three years he had a very successful line of patronage in Indianapolis, but decided to return to his old Kentucky home. He has established an office at 435 West Market street with all modern appliances known in the profession of dentistry, and wants all his old friends to call.

VALUABLE LAND.

Manhattan Island is the most valuable piece of land in the world. New York City assessment makes it worth $272,185 an acre. Peter Minuet paid $24 in trinkets for the whole of it.

CONCERNING ELECTIONS.

Election day is fast approaching and the excitement is now above fever heat. It is all right to pull for your party and friends with convincing arguments, but at the same time you must respect the opinion of your neighbor. This is an age of toleration. In these times no man of sense quarrels with his neighbor on account of a difference of religion or politics. Americans can thank God that they live in a land where religion is free from all obstructions and hindrances. Men and women are free to follow their inclinations in matters pertaining to the soul without fear; without being swayed by ulterior motives or consideration of worldly power and advancement, and are actuated only by the desire to know the truth.

Good Christians make good citizens, and now is the time for the citizens of Louisville to show that toleration that wins votes as well as esteem. Use argument, not abuse. Tell how you think parties and partisans have used or abused the people's money. Avoid vituperation and calumny. Be sure to register and sure to vote according to the dictates of your own conscience.

HUDSON-FULTON, WHO NEXT?

The interest of the whole world has been centered on New York this week. Every civilized nation was represented at the Hudson-Fulton celebration and each vied with the other in according honor to America. Residents of the Empire State were the hosts, but representatives of the entire Union joined with the New Yorkers in making the ambassadors, civil, military and naval, of other nations feel at home.

Three hundred years ago Henry Hudson, an Englishman in the employment of the Government of Holland, sailed up the river which now bears his name. He is believed to have been the first white man to have discovered that majestic stream. One hundred years ago Robert Fulton, the son of Irish parents, inventor of the steamboat and the precursor of the seagoing steam vessel, ran his boat, the Clermont, successfully from New York City to Albany. That is why America honors the memory of these men.

Both are conquerors over obstacles. Now there are other bidders for fame. Inventors of dirigible balloons, bi-planes and other aerial machines assembled at New York this week and helped to make history. When the next 100 years roll around whose name will be joined to that of Hudson and Fulton? Will it be Baldwin, Wright or Curtiss?

WHERE HEARTS ENDS.

Thomas E. Powers, a cartoonist of the New York Evening Journal, has brought suit for libel against the Catholic News because, in a letter from the Rev. John Talbot Smith printed August 7, it was stated that a cartoon of Powers represented the Pope as one of the members of the Down and Out Club, into which the King of Spain was about to be received. Powers claims that the figure Father Smith took to be that of the Pope really represented the deposed Shah of Persia.

The real offender against the Catholics was Arthur Brisbane, William Hearst's man Friday. He has been scintillating for a short time as a Hearst sky rocket. He will drop like the stick and the glamour of Hearst's papers will quickly fade. Hearst has had political ambitions. He sowed them in the wind and will reap the whirlwind.

IRELAND OVER ALL.

Capt. Edward O'Meara Condon, who suffered imprisonment in the Allen, Larkin and O'Brien affair, and who was later released and came to the United States, and John O'Callaghan, of the United Irish League, are now touring Ireland. Wherever Condon goes he is meeting with a tremendous ovation. For more than thirty years he has been active in Irish National affairs in the United States. In speaking of the ovations tendered Condon everywhere the able editor of the Dundalk Democrat says:

"If we Irish Nationalists would learn the lesson taught by the lives of men like O'Meara Condon there would be more patriotism in Irish politics and more hearty co-operation in the country's cause, and more substantial progress. We have gained many good things since the black days of '67; and much of our gain is due to what a statesman has called the 'intensity of Fenianism'—the national spirit that taught the men of those days and their immediate descendants to place 'Ireland over all' and their personal interests very far behind. We fear there is little of the intensity of Fenianism in present day Irish politics—and so much the worse for Ireland."

HOME RULE FOR IRELAND.

The Irish Nationalists have organized a campaign in England and Scotland for the purpose of enlightening the British electorate as to the precise meaning of their demand for self-government. In furtherance of this propaganda and in the belief that a general election can not long be delayed, an official pamphlet has been issued, entitled "What is Meant by Home Rule." The object is apparently to convince the people that John Redmond and his party are moderate in their demands. Mr. Gwyn, M. P., who writes the preface of the pamphlet, says it is absurd and unfair to quote against the Nationalists the speeches and writings of professed extremists in America or elsewhere. The demand of the Irish party in Parliament has always been limited to the grant of a subordinate Parliament for purely Irish affairs.

On the other hand, British journals antagonistic to the Irish party ridicule this and insist that Redmond and his followers want to have complete separation and to establish an Irish republic. Even some of those Irish patriots who are opposing John Redmond take the same ground.

This is no time for quibbling. Let Ireland get home rule first. The Irish Parliamentary party has done much for the country in the last two decades, and increased benefits are coming every day. Let Ireland get her own Parliament first. That will mean a home rule government, and then in due time and when the French Government is guilty of very peculiar procedures. After dispossessing the religious orders and driving many of the priests and nuns from the country, it has just given a prize of $3,000 to Mother Ernestine, a Sister of Charity. She is known as the helper of former prisoners. The prize was presented through the Academy of Moral Science.

From time to time the people arise in indignation against the unjust traffic of loan sharks. Indignation seems to be all it amounts to. The quickest way to kill off loan sharks is to abolish the law that secures their debt.

If you have the welfare of the city at heart go to your precinct on Tuesday or Wednesday and register. Make it a matter of conscience as well as a duty to the city, State and nation.

GERMAN PROGRESS.

Nothing could more strikingly indicate the tremendous progress in German shipbuilding facilities than the haste with which the new battleships Heligoland and Oldenburg have launched—only nine months from the date their keels were laid down. Both will exceed in size and displacement the British Dreadnought and each will carry 1,000 men. Three years ago the heaviest battleship any German navy yard was capable of turning out was 19,200 tons. The new battleships will cost at least $12,000,000 each.

ALTAR SOCIETY CELEBRATES.

The Altar Society of St. Mary's church will celebrate its anniversary tomorrow. All the members will receive holy communion at high mass at 8 o'clock and will attend solemn vespers at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The society numbers 156 members. Mrs. Henry Bosquet is the President.

FATHER DUNN RETURNS.

Rev. Father William Dunn, O. P., who went to an Indian town to aid in conducting the celebration of the Forty Hours' prayer, has returned home. He will probably preach the Rosary sermon at St. Louis Bertrand's church tomorrow afternoon.

FOR ST. BRIGID'S CHURCH.

The Rev. Father Herman Jansen, pastor of St. Brigid's church, is making a house to house canvass of his parish to secure the annual collection for the church. Thus far his parishioners have responded very generously.

ANNUAL COLLECTION.

Last Sunday at St. John's church envelopes were distributed to the parishioners calling for the annual subscription to the church. Those envelopes will be collected at the masses at 7 and 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

After spending a honeymoon in Louisville Mr. and Mrs. Barnes will begin housekeeping in Texas, where the groom holds a responsible position with the Texas & Pacific railroad. Miss Miller is the charming daughter of George W. Miller.

DOING GOOD WORK.

The Particular Council of the St. Vincent de Paul Society of Pittsburg is about to undertake the establishment of an industrial school at Derby, to be known as the Toner Institute, in which it expects to care for the Catholic children coming within the jurisdiction of the Juvenile Court. The scheme has the approval of Right Rev. Bishop Canevin. Father Gerold, formerly of the Catholic Protectory, has been appointed Chaplain, and a lay prefect is to take charge of the institution.

INSULT OUR FLAG.

International Complications May Develop as Result.

Because a police-inspector ordered the keeper of a public house or saloon in Castlereagh, Ireland, to remove the Stars and Stripes from the roof of his establishment on the occasion of the recent visit of Edward O'Meara Condon, of Washington, and John S. O'Callaghan, National Secretary of the United Irish League in America, international complications may arise. The inspector told the man that had hoisted the American flag that it was against the law to hoist a flag over a public house, but he did not interfere with flags of the English nation displayed over neighboring saloons.

The occurrence attracted much comment and caused widespread indignation throughout Ireland. Premier Asquith will be called upon to order an immediate and full apology.

THE BIG STORE.

The Big Store, Market street, between Fourth and Fifth, presents a splendid appearance since its re-opening. An entire new front and new cabinets have been put in; an additional electrical display has been installed and following the alteration sale an entire new stock of men's and boys' clothing, haberdashery, hats, caps, etc. This will be found a good time to visit this model and reliable house.

CUPID GETS BUSY.

Cupid has been very busy in Marion county recently, and as a result three weddings are to take place at St. Augustine's church at Lebanon next Wednesday. The happy couples will be Miss Rebecca McElroy and Nathan Busby, Miss Lizzie Hamilton and William Spalding, and Miss Anna Canary and Joseph Hamilton. Rev. Father Hogarty will officiate at all the nuptials.

NOTED TEACHER DEAD.

Word has been received in Louisville of the death of the Rev. Brother John Friel, of the Franciscan order, who died in the monastery in Brooklyn on Friday of last week. Brother John was a native of Ireland and a relative of Cardinal Logue. He came to America in 1867 and for thirty years had been instructor in drawing and painting at St. Francis' College in Brooklyn.

CENTRAL COMMITTEE.

The Central Committee, Catholic Knights of America, will meet in regular session at St. Mary's Hall next Friday night. As plans are to be made for the fall campaign for membership President John Scheldt requests a full attendance of the delegates. It is probable that Ben Speaker, manager of the dramatic club, will have something interesting to offer.

GEORGETOWN WEDDING.

Miss Viola Pieri and William Parks, popular young people of Georgetown, Ky., were united in marriage at St. John's church in the Scott county capital on Wednesday morning. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father James A. Flynn. The bride is a daughter of Councilman Louis Pieri, and the groom is a prosperous young business man.

DANIEL BOONE SOCIALS.

The Daniel Boone Socials, an organization of well known young men in the southwest end of the city, have arranged to give a series of select dances at Nadorff's Hall, Eighteenth and Kentucky streets, every Monday night in October. Many invitations have been issued and a large gathering will open the series next Monday night.

GRIEVE FOR SON.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Leachman, of Springfield, Ky., sympathize with them in their grief over the death of their infant son, John K. Leachman, who died Wednesday afternoon. The funeral took place from the residence of the child's aunt, Mrs. M. L. Wiscen, 1725 Field avenue, on Thursday afternoon.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS.

Late News That Will Interest Members Here and Elsewhere.

On Sunday, October 10, the members of Bishop Carroll Council will receive holy communion at the Church of the Mother of God in Covington.

While the Grand Council, Y. M. I. of California jurisdiction, was in session a letter of greeting was received from Joseph C. Morrissey, Grand Knight of San Francisco Council, Knights of Columbus.

The Right Rev. James J. Keane, Bishop of Cheyenne, will begin a series of six lectures to non-Catholics in Milwaukee next Monday evening. The lectures are to be given under the auspices of the two Milwaukee councils.

The Milwaukee councils are planning to give a joint banquet in celebration of Landing day, October 12. H. J. Desmond will be the toastmaster and the speakers will be Archbishop Messmer, Bishop Keane and Hon. Thomas E. Ryan. Only four of the charter members of the order are now living. They are Messrs. Daniel Colwell, formerly National Secretary and now Historian of the order; W. M. Geary, Dr. M. C. O'Connor and C. T. Driscoll. All were in attendance at the Mobile meeting. Another noted delegate was Past Supreme Knight John J. Phelan, who held the highest office for many years.

HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing
the Past Week—General
News Notes.

Division 1 will hold a regular meeting Tuesday night.

Division 2 met last night and heard partial reports on the picnic and eucure.

The Niagara Falls division is considering a proposition to consolidate with the division from Lockport, N. Y.

The committee arranging for the twenty-fifth anniversary of Division 3 will make a detailed report Thursday night.

The Ladies' Auxiliary will meet Wednesday evening and preliminary steps will be taken in arranging for the reception of members of the four divisions.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of Cincinnati is planning to hold a bazaar on October 13, and all Hibernians in Cincinnati, Covington, Newport and Bellevue are interested.

Pennsylvania and New York divisions have organized a football association for the fall season. The first game was won by a score of three to one, when the team from Olean defeated their rivals from Bradford.

All arrangements are progressing favorably for the silver jubilee celebration of Division 3, A. O. H., at Falls City Hall on Tuesday night, October 12. President Patrick T. Sullivan, D. J. Coleman, George J. Butler and other members are working hard to make the occasion a success. Invitations are being sent out to many friends of the division. The programme will be announced next week.

Cold weather interfered seriously with the attendance at the picnic given by Division 2, A. O. H., at Phoenix Hill Park on Tuesday night. However there was a fine crowd of people in attendance and all enjoyed a pleasant evening. The eucure game was played in the dining room and twenty tables were in operation. Many handsome prizes were awarded. The dancing hall was comfortably filled with young people. Con J. Ford, President of Division 2; Dan McKenna, Will McLean, Edward Keenan, Joe Lynch and others of the old guard enlivened things with Irish jigs, reels, break-downs and quadrilles.

WEDDING CRUCIFIX.

A beautiful story is told in the Catholic Virgin in describing the life of an aged couple, whose first purchase on the eve of their marriage was a crucifix. The modest little crucifix in plaster was given in their home the place of honor over the mantelpiece, where it seemed to reign as a true and undisputed master over the whole lives of these humble and courageous workers who had asked God to protect and bless the union of their hearts.

Weeks and years passed by and the crucifix was never taken down. Now the man and his wife are old. Their whole family is exemplary and edifying; they are esteemed and loved by all who know them. Nobody has ever heard any quarrel amongst them; they love each other tenderly, because they have learned how to practice the domestic virtues. It happened that a friend coming asked the old grandmother, now bent with age, how her children were kept so good and walked so uprightly. And the old woman pointed her hand to the white crucifix nailed to the wall above the mantelpiece for half a century. "You must ask Him," she said, her face lighting up with a serene smile, as of one who knew the secret of true Christian happiness.

NEWEST MEAN MAN.

An exchange says: Ohio has produced the champion mean man. Texas sought the dubious honor, presenting three candidates. The first will not drink water unless it is out of another man's well. The second makes his family write "small" so as to save ink. The third stopped his clock to prevent the works from wearing out. Athens, Ohio, has a niggard hero, who seems to have relatives everywhere, even in Louisville. He has refused to subscribe for a paper because of the strain put upon his spectacles through reading it.

HONEST TRUTH.

"Mrs. Scribner (impressively)—'Whatever you do, never marry a newspaper man.'"

School Chum—"Why not?"
"I married one and I know. Every night my husband brings home a big bundle of newspapers from all over the country and they almost drive me crazy."

"The newspapers?"
"Indeed, they do. They are just crammed with the most astonishing bargains in stores a thousand miles away."

COOKING VEGETABLES.

In cooking vegetables such as green corn, turnips, beets, cauliflower, dried beans and peas, string beans and even cabbage add a bit of lard while cooking and you will be surprised how much less time it takes to cook them, besides retaining the flavor of the vegetable. To corn, beets, turnips and peas also add quite a bit of sugar.

LARGE SCHOOL SYSTEM.

Philadelphia has an enormous parish school system. At the close of the last school term there were 61,370 pupils with an average daily attendance of 56,450. The total increase at the opening of the schools this term was 3,719.

STREET CAR TRAFFIC.

New York City is the greatest car riding city in the world. Statistics just compiled show that the average is 318 car rides a year for each inhabitant.

RINSING CLOTHES.

When rinsing clothes in hard water if a half cupful of milk is put in the water the bluing will not streak the clothes.

CLEAN RACING

The Slogan at Churchill Downs Fall Race Meeting.

The Seelbach Hotel handicap for three-year-olds and upward will be run this afternoon at Churchill Downs with some of the best horses at the track entered, and considering the fast track in all probability a new mark will be set for the distance, which is a mile and seventy yards, the record being held by Green Seal with the fast time of 1:42 4-5.

The attendance during the first few days was light on account of the chilly weather, but the crowds are coming daily now and betting is very brisk in the pari-mutuel machines, which style of betting is now approved by the general public. The racing officials have the confidence of the patrons, and all in all the people of Louisville are having the cleanest racing in the country. The Old Inn handicap will be run Monday afternoon.

RETURNS TO ROUTE.

Charles S. Ralby, who has enjoyed a pleasant vacation, returned to his office as letter carrier this morning, and all his old friends are glad to see him back on the job.

COVINGTON WEDDING.

Miss Mayme McCarthy and Charles Covington, popular young people of Covington, were united in marriage in St. Joseph's church in that city on Wednesday morning. After a short bridal tour they will begin housekeeping. Both are known and have friends in Louisville.

COMMENDABLE.

Robert F. Doyle Institute, of Cincinnati, which at one time affiliated with the Y. M. C. and is composed solely of Catholic young men, will open a night school for young men on Tuesday evening, October 12. Book-keeping and stenography will be the principal features. No tuition fee will be charged. The idea is a very commendable one.

VISITOR GOES HOME.

Joseph J. Bereiter, a letter carrier from Chicago, returned home Tuesday after spending a week in Louisville. While here he was the guest of Louis W. Borntraeger. Before returning home Mr. Bereiter paid a visit to Mammoth Cave. He expressed himself as well pleased with all he saw in Kentucky.

LACKED EXPERIENCE.

William—Well, old man, I have not seen you for an age. And how do you find matrimony?

John (sighing)—It is an expensive joy. If I had only known what I had to pay in milliners' bills—

William—You would have remained single, eh?

John—No; I would have married the milliner.

IRELAND.

Record of the Most Important of the Recent Events Culled
From Exchanges.

Dr. Paul Blake has been appointed Assistant Medical Officer of the Castlebar Asylum.

The Right Rev. Dr. McKenna, the new Bishop of Clogher, has formally taken possession of his diocese.

The season for herring fishing has opened in Donegal, and one boat came in with fifty casks of excellent fish.

Mrs. Henry Thompson, of Dromore, County Down, died suddenly while visiting friends in Newcastle.

Miss Bridget Quigley, a highly respected lady of Dundalk, leaves many relatives and friends to mourn her death.

Tipperary has a new industry, the manufacture of combs, buttons and other articles from coeoin or the curds of milk.

Mrs. Margaret Duffy, eighty years old, died at her home in Dundalk. She was very highly esteemed by all who knew her.

At Gurteen, County Sligo, Patrick Gorman, a pensioner seventy-four years old, won first prize, a silver watch, for step dancing.

Miss Anna Magee, while cycling along the Belfast road near Carrickfergus, was shot in the foot by a man frightening crows.

John Weldon, of Colton, County Louth, fell from a bridge on the south side of the village, but fortunately escaped serious injuries.

Sister Mary, for forty years a member of the Presentation order, died in the convent of the order at Cashel. She was formerly Miss Mary Hickey.

Heavy rains have badly damaged the corn crop on the low-lying farms in Donegal, while in several other counties farmers are complaining of the drought.

Patrick Brennan, an esteemed member of the Ardee Council, is dead after an illness of several months. He was a practical Catholic and an ardent Nationalist.

Hon. O'Mengher Condon, of Washington, D. C., and John O'Callaghan, of New York, Secretary of the United Irish League, were given a grand ovation and reception at Dundalk.

Hugh Byrne, a farmer and keeper of a public house at Carrageagh, met death in a railroad accident at Inniskillen. He was sixty-five years old, and his death is very much regretted.

Henry O'Neil was buried by a fall of the roof of the mine in which he was working at Glearavel, County Antrim. He was taken out alive, but little hope is entertained of his recovery.

Miss Moya O'Reilly, daughter of the late Matthew O'Reilly, of Derry, County Louth, has become the bride of Patrick Rooney, of Newry. They are spending their honeymoon in London.

The whole population of Newry turned out to welcome the Rev. Father John Rooney, who has just returned from a five years' collection tour in the United States. Father Rooney collected for the Newry Cathedral. He has been made parish priest at Banbridge, ten miles from Newry.

SETTLE COFFEE.

An economical and satisfactory way to settle coffee is as follows: Beat one egg well with an egg beater, pour over one pound of freshly ground coffee and mix thoroughly, and no trace of dampness then remains. The coffee may then be put away as usual, and when used will be found clear as amber.

STANDS FOR LICENSE.

Eben W. Sears, a policeman, has announced his candidacy for Mayor of Lynn, Mass. In speaking of his candidacy he told representatives of the press: "Before I get through I will give people an idea of the inside workings of this city. I will put out some stuff that will make them sit up and say, 'Where did he get it?' I am in favor of liquor license for Lynn and will run on that platform. At present the interstate-express companies are bringing booze in here by the car load, Lynn people are getting arrested in Boston and Salem for drunkenness, and there is lots of pocket selling, a thing almost impossible to suppress. Besides this you can buy the terrible concoction known as 'split' at nearly any drug store. I find that under no license drunkenness is on the increase."

FANCIES OF FASHION.

Cords are to be one of the chief novelties of the new gowns. Colored embroideries will be much used in the newest neckwear. Ribbons have been coming gradually into fashion again as trimming.

Linens and gingham are the most comfortable wear for little girls in school.

The newest skirts have a deep hip-yoke effect that fits the figure closely.

The evening gowns with the round neck and short mousquetaire sleeves will be popular.

One of the most popular waists for dressing wear this season is the model with the bib effect.

While the plain nets are popular, those with the dot and the vermicelli design are more in first style.

Hatpins of mammoth dragon flies, huge beetles and other terrible things are reproduced in iridescent glass.

The transparent effects are in full swing among the silks, gray over natter blue, green or black over Seville blue being lovely.

BACKED DOWN.

City Administration Forces
Were Afraid to Meet the Issue.

Judge McGee, Green Took Sidelstep On Proposed Investigation.

How the Reform Idea Is Being Carried Out at City Hall.

POLITICAL POT IS NOW BOILING

The cool weather of the closing nights of September instead of enveloping local politics in a frost has only served to make the leaders of each contending party more assiduous in their work. Now the pot is waxing to a boil and all are anxious for the second day of November to arrive. The voters will do their work then. This week has been one of great activity on both sides. Meetings have been held in every quarter of the city from Butchertown and Clifton to Portland and from Maryland to Goss avenue. The end is not yet. Greater rallies are planned for the remainder of the month. It looks like plain sailing for the Democratic ticket headed by the Hon. W. O. Head.

The Republicans, through Judge J. Wheeler McGee, W. Garnett Munn and Ed B. Green, got an awful throw down this week when those officials refused to permit a public investigation of the announcement that negro dives, blind tigers, etc., were being permitted to run, and that certain negro Republican clubs were merely cloaks for dives of iniquity. After courting an investigation the city administration turned a complete somersault, and like vaulting ambition landed on the other side.

William H. Borgmann, Vice President of the Executive Committee of the Mutual Protective Association, addressed a letter to Edwin B. Green, Chairman of the Board of Safety, calling attention to violations of the Sunday closing law by both white and black saloonkeepers. Mr. Borgmann also saw Mr. Green in person. Finally it was arranged to have a public investigation at the City Hall on Tuesday afternoon.

Messrs. Green and Munn were there to represent the Board of Safety; Judge McGee to represent the License Board. When Mr. Borgmann and his witnesses arrived they found more than fifty policemen lined up in the hall. Many negro dive-keepers were there, too. James P. Edwards represented the Mutual Protective Association. Col. Jacob H. Haager and Paul Burlingame were attorneys for the city administration and had to hold the prompter's book for Judge McGee. Poor old soul! He forgot his lines every few minutes and repeated his words in a halting fashion.

When the administration party saw the array of witnesses assembled by the Mutual Protective Association all bets were declared off. Then and there it was decided to call off the proposed convention. Police in uniform and in plain clothes filled all the seats in the Council chamber, where the hearing was to have been held. After trying every legal way to have the investigation proceed the Democratic attorneys became disgusted. The sum and substance of the stand taken by the city administration was the utterance of Judge McGee. "In answer to Mr. Edwards I will say that the gentlemen of the board deem that no good purpose could be subserved by going into an investigation of any charges you may have to make before these two boards."

This was in answer to Attorney Edwards' statement that he had witnesses at hand to name the violators of the law, to give their addresses and to make their statements under oath. While the farce meeting was in progress Messrs. Munn, Green and McGee were visibly worried, and from time to time they put their heads together in conference and to secure mutual courage and support.

Another of the amusing things of the present campaign is the way the Evening Post is trying to gull its readers with a lot of stuff about the sacrifices the reform Republicans are making in serving the public. For instance, there is C. C. Stoll, of the Board of Public Works, who was elected Park Commissioner, but promptly resigned on account of lack of time—that is, he said it was lack of time, but right away accepted a job on the Board of Public Works at $2,500 a year. That's self-sacrifice as the reformers see it.

Another sample of their style of reform can be seen in County Clerk Mark Gabbhart's office. There are several candidates holding down deputyships, among them Bob Harris, who is running for Legislative Representative in the Eighth and Ninth wards, and Gus Neunath, candidate for Balliff. Of course their whole time during the day is devoted to the taxpayers' interest, because it wouldn't look right to take any time off for campaigning. This is the same office that shelters Jim Howard, who was indicted in the Goebel murder. County Clerk Gabbhart's office seems to be a haven of rest and pocket money for reformers.

VISITORS FROM IRELAND.

The Rev. Samuel Thompson and the Rev. Henry Thompson, brothers of James Thompson, the local wholesale liquor dealer of this city, and also of Dr. Cuthbert Thompson, have come all the way from Ireland to assist at their brother's wedding. Dr. Cuthbert Thompson is to wed Miss Julia C. Mengel, daughter of Col. Charles C. Mengel, on October 12. Both are as genial as their big-hearted brothers in Kentucky and are just as proud of their nationality. Each of them presides over a large congregation of non-Catholics.

Ten years ago my daughter was taken with nerve disease so bad that she could not walk without falling down and could hardly seat herself at the table, was at times very nervous and about 2 years, then we used Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic, it had a wonderful effect on her and she is now as healthy as ever.

Grateful.
Anthony, R. I., January 17th, 1908.
I have used 6 bottles of the wonderful remedy, Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic and I am now enjoying the very best of health. I suffered from weakness, debility and kindred ailments and had a severe attack of nervousness which left me in a weakened and miserable condition. Gratefully I recommend the remedy to all sufferers and they can refer to me for all letters.

in Belfast, but both have many warm Catholic friends.

MACAULEY'S.

"Way-Down East," one of William J. Brady's great productions, will be the attraction at Macauley's Theater beginning Monday evening and continuing all week with the usual matinees on Wednesday and Saturday.

It is a play of home life in a New England rural district and always draws crowded houses in Louisville.

MASONIC THEATER.

Lovers of old yet ever popular operas are looking forward with great pleasure to the appearance of the Sheehan Opera Company at Masonic Theater next week. That play house has been additionally beautified and adorned during the summer. The repertoire of the company includes "Carmen," "Hohemian Girl," "Martha" and "Il Trovatore."

PRINCESS SKATING RINK.

The Princess Skating Rink, the old Seventh street armory, will open for the season tonight, and will remain open for the accommodation of roller skaters every afternoon and night. The building has been renovated and presents a very attractive appearance. One of the features will be the daily appearance of Miss May Bradley, the twelve-year-old girl phenomenal skater. The management has a large stock of Richardson's roller skates for the accommodation of patrons.

WORTH RECOGNIZED.

John Keane, one of the leading Hibernians in Jeffersonville, has received an appointment as guard at the Indiana State Reformatory, and assumed his new duties yesterday. Mr. Keane is in every way qualified to fill the position. Fourteen years ago he was appointed to a similar position and held it for three years. His many friends in the three Falls Cities rejoice that he has secured a comfortable berth.

FORESTS

Of the United States Must Be Preserved Say Able Scientists.

Nature's Chief Support of the Whole Fabric of Civilization.

Waste Instead of Use of Lumber Is Menace to the Future.

WOODMEN SPARE THE TREES

The United States Department of Agriculture has established a Bureau of Forestry, and that bureau is doing great work in the diffusion of knowledge concerning the necessity for the conservation of the forests. While it deals solely with the forests of the United States, the information is of interest throughout the world. Able scientists are at the head of this bureau, and from time to time articles are sent to the papers throughout the country. The last circular letter was written by Treadwell Cleveland, Jr. In part he says:

"In connection with the general plan to conserve all natural resources it is the most important and far-reaching economic policy ever adopted and pursued by any nation. The forest is one of the chief supports of the whole material fabric of our civilization. The forest means not only a permanent supply of wood and the life of all the industries which depend upon it, but also the control of the waters for human use. There is only barrenness in the future of the nation which has lost the use of wood and the control of water."

"The sort of use that was made of natural resources during the pioneering stage, while right enough at the time, is far too wasteful to be carried on into the new industrial era. It has shown that we are still destroying the forest as we use it; that we are taking from it every year three and a half times as much wood as is added by the new growth. It has shown that less than one-third of the growing tree felled by the lumberman is ever used at all, so that two-thirds of all the timber cut is simply destroyed. It has shown that one-eighth of all the forests are swept by fires every year, and that on the average since 1870 forest fires have yearly cost $50,000,000 in timber and fifty lives. It has shown that over 99 per cent. of all the forests in private hands—which comprise three-fourths of all the forest land and four-fifths of all the wood—is thus devastated by destructive fire and the scourge of unchecked fires, while less than 1 per cent. is properly handled for successive crops or effectively protected from fires. The forest as a resource is rapidly being obliterated."

"But the inventory of the forests has had yet other ugly facts to reveal. With the disappearance and deterioration of the mountain forests the nation is losing control of the streams, which are useful in our civilization in ways and degrees unparalleled by any other resource. Pure water for domestic purpose is of course indispensable; usable water at the right seasons is the sole reliance of the great projects by which the arid lands are vivified by irrigation; cheap water transportation is a matter of dollars and cents to every citizen; trustworthy power streams are the key to the age of electricity, at the gates of which modern industry is standing. Yet the guardian of the waters is steadily compelled to retreat before the ax and fire."

"In waste alone we reject more than two-thirds of the lumber that might be taken from the standing trees. At least half of this waste is unnecessary. In the first place, we waste the forest by refusing to take advantage of its full capacity for growth. Protected and properly managed, our forests will produce far more wood than they do at present."

"It is not use which destroys the forests, but waste. Not use as such, but destructive use combined with inexcusable neglect, is causing the forests to dwindle under our progressive demands upon them. The problem therefore is not to be solved by disuse but by wise use and protection. These together will so stimulate forest growth that the needed wood may be harvested without depleting the stock on hand, and will keep intact the protective cover at the stream sources."

CENTRAL VEREIN.

The convention of the German Catholic Central Verein at Indianapolis last week was one of the most successful in the history of that great organization. The new officers are President, John B. Oelkers, Newark, N. J.; First Vice President, Joseph Reimann, Pittsburg; Second Vice President, Peter Ohleyer, Indianapolis; Recording Secretary, Frank Doffendorf, Racine, Wis.; Corresponding and Financial Secretary, John C. Innemann, St. Paul; Treasurer, William Ranan, Chicago.

GALLAGHER CLUB'S DANCE.

The Gallagher Club, an adjunct of Unity Council, Y. M. I., New Albany, will give another one of its popular dances at Maennerechor Hall on Monday night. All members of the order in Louisville are invited. The couples that have been given on Wednesday nights have been very successful.

TO SUPPORT NOVICES.

At all the masses and at the vesper service at St. Louis Bertrand's church tomorrow the annual collection will be taken up for the support of the Dominican novices. As there are a greater number of novices this year than ever before, the Fathers of the Dominican order ask their parishioners and friends to be more than ordinarily generous.
